Who is this course for?

This course is continuing professional development for therapists who already hold a qualification in massage, reflexology, acupuncture or similar.

- There is no pre-course work.
- You should be reasonably fit
- You should have a good understanding of the English language, both written and spoken as this is the language the course will be taught in.
- If you have any special needs please contact us before booking on this course

What will you learn?

Course aims:

- ❖ To explore ways to support the client's body, using towels, pillows and props, to create comfort and good body alignment so the client can completely relax. We will consider clients who can lie down on the couch but also those who may need to sit in a chair
- ❖ To provide each learner both theoretical and practical knowledge and support to deliver a fully clothed, safe, calming, acupressure nurture massage to clients.
- ❖ To explore key acu-points.

Course outcomes:

Learners will be able to demonstrate theoretical knowledge and practical competency:-

- ✓ To confidently understand how to use towels, pillows and props to fully support the clients body in the best body alignment possible for that client, both lying on a massage couch and when sitting in a chair.
- ✓ To confidently deliver fully clothed, safe, calming, acupressure nurture massage to clients
- ✓ To have an understanding of and reference to key acu-points.

At the end of this course you will have an understanding of:

- How to achieve the best positioning environment, lying down or sitting, to support your client to generate the most relaxed response to enjoy the massage and to aid a deeper healing experience
- What Acupressure is
- What Acupressure Nurture Massage is
- Where Acupressure sits within other Eastern therapies such as Acupuncture
- The different techniques of Acupressure
- How to choose the right acupressure technique to nurture your client
- Connecting to several key multi-purpose acupressure points
- Where to learn about more key acu-points, after the course

We will not be teaching you the location of all 14 meridian channels, as this is not possible on a 1-day course

We will explore the location of 24 key multi-purpose acu-points but you will not be expected to remember the exact location as this is not necessary for your client to receive the benefit from this therapy. You will also have an understanding about acupressure points so you can add others into your Acupressure Nurture Massage should you wish to go on and learn more

You will also learn

- What good body alignment looks like
- How people who are inflexible or weak can be in discomfort on the couch
- How being in discomfort on the couch can reduce therapeutic benefits
- How to provide bespoke body-support for your client on the massage couch to aid a deeper relaxation experience
- How to deliver a fully clothed, gentle hands on therapeutic sequence to rebalance & restore your client
- How to look after yourself before, during and after the treatment

How you will be assessed

Practical Assessment: 'continuous assessment and feedback' throughout the day
There will be time available towards the end of the day to revisit areas which require additional practice or discussion to aid certification achievement
The tutor will remain available after the finish time of 5pm for those who may require extra support to receive a 'pass' certification

What Certificate will you receive?

The certification of this module is 'Acupressure Nurture Massage'

To successfully gain certification at the end of the 1-day training you will be able to demonstrate an understanding of:

- ✓ Delivering a safe Acupressure Nurture Massage using calming acupressure techniques
- ✓ An understanding of some of the key acupressure points
